Wisdom of value

Ultimately every man's major search in life is the need to feel that he is the best version of himself; “the realization or fulfilment of one's talents and potentialities, especially considered as a drive or need present in everyone”.

People's opinions are plenty and free things hardly have any value. When it comes to effective wisdom; the type which has withstood the pressure of time, only a few truly work and remain a best kept secret.

Once you are done with this book, there will be no need to question what you have read or put them these wisdoms to the test; as all of it has already been done for you.

The only thing which will remain, is for you to apply these principle of wisdom into your life. So they may allow you to leverage on your qualities and carry you forwards. On your Odyssey towards self-actualisation.

Ten commandments of wisdom

- 1. Your attitude towards life determines for a great extent your happiness.
- 2. Money really is not the most important in life.
- 3. For happiness to matter, you must share it with others.
- 4. It pays to do something good for others.
- 5. When your heart desires someone, you should go for it.
- 6. Every day is a new opportunity to start turning your life towards the direction you like.
- 7. Honesty, fairness and dignity will make you sleep better.
